

A photograph of a public plaza in Harvard Square. In the foreground, there are large, vibrant orange marigold flower arrangements. In the middle ground, several people are seated at metal tables and chairs, engaged in conversation. A woman in a dark jacket is walking towards the camera. In the background, a brick building features a large, arched glass kiosk with a red sign that reads "OUT OF TOWN NEWS". The kiosk displays various items, including a white t-shirt. To the left, a modern glass-fronted building is visible. The scene is set on a brick-paved plaza with black lampposts and a white car parked on the street to the left.
