River Street Reconstruction
Three-week Virtual Open House

The City has created a project website for you to learn about draft concepts and provide feedback for the River Street corridor and Carl Barron Plaza elements. The corridor design was developed based on feedback over the last 18 months including two public meetings, individual stakeholder outreach, online surveys, wikimaps and through the River Street Reconstruction Working Group process. Carl Barron Plaza concepts focus on different elements that could be included in a future, complete design.

Visit the River Street Virtual Open House Page
Through November 14

Visit the Virtual Open House to see the presentation on the design and provide input on corridor ideas and urban design elements. Your comments will help the project team refine the design for River Street, Norman Tubman Plaza, Carl Barron Plaza, and the Central Square busway.
